Learning Outcomes

On completion of this course, learners will be able to:

- LO1: Identify the internal and external stakeholders and audiences who influence the brand, and create branding designs and reputation assessments that reflect the organisation's product or service attributes and benefits.
- LO2: Capture and analyse customer insights through strategic active-listening approaches — understanding customer perceptions of the brand and documenting the reception and outcomes of branding campaigns.
- LO3: Apply branding fundamentals within the marketing mix — executing branding campaigns, events and public-relations activities that increase brand awareness in alignment with brand positioning strategy, operational plans and budget.
- LO4: Evaluate brand and public-relations effectiveness using reputation indicators and KPIs across platforms, and recommend improvements to strengthen public-relations campaign performance.

Assessment

- Written Assessment (WA) — Short-Answer Questions (SAQ), 1 hour, open book.
- Case Study (CS) — one continuous branding scenario with open-ended tasks, 1 hour, open book.
- Format: Open Book — course slides, Learner Guide and approved materials only.
- The assessment block runs on Day 2 from 4:00pm to 6:00pm.
- A minimum of 75% attendance (per SSG Digital Attendance record) is required to be eligible for assessment and funding. Learners must be assessed as Competent and complete the TRAQOM survey.

Topic-by-Topic Breakdown

LU1 — Stakeholders and Organisation • Slide 15

Internal & External Stakeholders · Audience Types · Brand Design · Reputation Assessment

Key concepts:

- Internal stakeholders (management, employees) and external stakeholders (customers, partners, investors, media) each hold a different level of influence over — and interest in — the brand.
- External audiences segment into customers, partners, investors and media; each needs its own communication approach and message.
- Branding designs and ideas should foreground the product or service's attributes and the concrete benefits they deliver to the audience.
- Assessing an organisation's reputation on social media and other platforms — reviews, mentions, sentiment — is the starting point for every branding decision.

Activity 1 — Stakeholder Influence Mapping · Slide 21

Objective: Identify internal and external stakeholders influencing the brand.

Scenario: Your company is launching a new sustainability initiative. Map internal and external stakeholders, assess their influence levels, and design engagement strategies for each group.

Duration: 25 minutes.

Activity 2 — Audience Mapping Workshop · Slide 22

Objective: Recognise the types of external audience and their needs.

Scenario: Your company is launching a new sustainability product line. Map external audiences and develop targeted messaging strategies for each segment.

Duration: 25 minutes.

Activity 3 — Brand Attribute Mapping · Slide 23

Objective: Draft branding designs and ideas highlighting the product or service's attributes and benefits.

Scenario: Design a brand identity for a new fitness app targeting busy professionals, mapping both hard attributes (features) and soft attributes (lifestyle benefits) into a compelling visual concept.

Duration: 30 minutes.

Activity 4 — Digital Reputation Audit Exercise · Slide 24

Objective: Assess the organisation's reputation on social media and other platforms.

Scenario: Your organisation has received mixed customer feedback across social platforms. Conduct a reputation assessment to identify improvement opportunities and develop an action plan.

Duration: 45 minutes.

LU2 — Customer Influence · Slide 26

Customer Perceptions · Brand Reputation · Campaign Reception · Active Listening

Key concepts:

- Customers form perceptions of a brand, its products and its services from quality, experience and communication — a gap often exists between what a company believes and what customers actually feel.
- Customers actively shape brand reputation through word-of-mouth, reviews and advocacy — their voice can amplify or damage a brand faster than any paid campaign.

- Documenting customer reception and the outcome of branding campaigns turns anecdotal feedback into evidence for future campaign decisions.
- Active listening — full attention, a structured framework, and paraphrasing without judgement — reveals the customer's true perspective of the organisation.

Activity 5 — Brand Perception Audit • Slide 32

Objective: Assess customer perceptions of the brand, products and services.

Scenario: Your company recently received mixed customer reviews. Management believes service quality is excellent, but customer-satisfaction scores are declining. Conduct a perception audit to identify the gaps.

Duration: 25 minutes.

Activity 6 — Brand Advocacy Assessment • Slide 33

Objective: Recognise the importance of the customer in influencing brand reputation.

Scenario: Your company recently received mixed reviews online. As brand manager, analyse customer feedback and develop an advocacy strategy to improve brand reputation through existing satisfied customers.

Duration: 25 minutes.

Activity 7 — Campaign Documentation Audit • Slide 34

Objective: Document customer reception to the brand and the outcome of branding campaigns.

Scenario: Your company launched a new product branding campaign three months ago. Management needs a documentation report on customer reception and campaign outcomes to inform future marketing investment.

Duration: 25 minutes.

Activity 8 — Customer Perspective Analysis • Slide 35

Objective: Perform active listening from the customer to understand the customer's perspective of the organisation.

Scenario: You receive a complaint from a long-term customer expressing frustration about recent service changes. They say they feel 'unheard' and 'unimportant' to your organisation.

Duration: 25 minutes.

LU3 — Branding in Marketing • Slide 37

Branding Basics • Role in Marketing • Awareness Campaigns • PR Execution

Key concepts:

- Branding basics — visual identity, brand values, brand voice and brand guidelines — give a business a consistent, recognisable presence.
- Branding plays a central role in marketing: it builds trust, differentiates from competitors and creates the emotional connection that drives loyalty.
- Executing branding campaigns, events and activities — from social pushes to experiential pop-ups — raises brand awareness across the target audience.
- Public-relations campaigns must align to the brand positioning strategy, the operational plan and the marketing budget to stay credible and sustainable.

Activity 9 — Brand Audit Workshop • Slide 42

Objective: Explain the basics of branding.

Scenario: You are consulting for a local restaurant with inconsistent branding across their website, social media, and physical location. The owner wants to understand how to create unified brand guidelines.

Duration: 30 minutes.

Activity 10 — Brand-Marketing Audit Exercise • Slide 43

Objective: Explain the role of branding in marketing.

Scenario: You are a marketing manager evaluating how well your company's current marketing campaigns align with brand identity. Select a real company and analyse one of their recent marketing campaigns.

Duration: 20 minutes.

Activity 11 — Brand Activation Planning Workshop • Slide 44

Objective: Execute branding campaigns, events and activities to increase brand awareness.

Scenario: Your organisation wants to launch a new product line and needs to increase brand awareness by 40% within 6 months. Design a multi-channel campaign that includes both digital and experiential elements.

Duration: 30 minutes.

Activity 12 — PR Campaign Budget Planning • Slide 45

Objective: Execute public-relations campaigns in alignment to brand positioning strategies, operational plans and budget.

Scenario: You're the marketing manager for a growth-stage tech company launching a new product. Create a PR campaign budget aligned with the brand positioning strategy.

Duration: 25 minutes.

LU4 — Branding Effectiveness • Slide 47

Reputation Metrics • Success Indicators • PR Tactics • KPI Monitoring • Continuous Improvement

Key concepts:

- Reputation is measured through social metrics, digital metrics (traffic, mentions) and business KPIs (NPS, satisfaction) across every platform the organisation touches.
- Successful branding shows up in awareness, customer loyalty, financial impact and trust metrics — tracked consistently over time, not measured once.
- Public-relations tactics — media relations, community outreach, crisis management and digital engagement — extend the brand's message beyond paid channels.
- Monitoring the brand against SMART KPIs and acting on the gaps turns brand management into a continuous-improvement cycle rather than a one-off campaign.

Activity 13 — Platform Reputation Audit • Slide 55

Objective: Identify measures or indicators of the organisation's reputation on different platforms.

Scenario: Your organisation needs to establish reputation monitoring for a new product launch across social media, review sites, and business platforms.

Duration: 20 minutes.

Activity 14 — Brand Health Assessment • Slide 56

Objective: Recognise the indicators of successful branding.

Scenario: You are a marketing manager evaluating your company's brand performance using both traditional and digital metrics.

Duration: 25 minutes.

Activity 15 — PR Crisis Response Plan • Slide 57

Objective: Apply public-relations tactics.

Scenario: Your company faces negative social-media coverage about product-quality issues. Design a comprehensive PR response strategy using the tactics learned.

Duration: 25 minutes.

Activity 16 — KPI Dashboard Design • Slide 58

Objective: Monitor the success of the brand against Key Performance Indicators (KPI).

Scenario: Create a brand KPI monitoring framework for a retail company launching new product lines.

Duration: 20 minutes.

Activity 17 — PR Campaign Audit Exercise • Slide 59

Objective: Provide suggestions to improve public-relations campaign effectiveness.

Scenario: Your organisation's recent product-launch campaign achieved 500K impressions but only 15% top-tier coverage and 45% message penetration. Stakeholders are questioning the campaign's business impact.

Duration: 25 minutes.
